

OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY

The Occupational Therapy Doctorate (OTD) program is a three-year, year-round professional program that prepares students for community or clinical practice, post-doctorate educational experiences, and many other occupational therapy practice opportunities. Students may be admitted to the pre-occupational therapy bachelors degree program directly from high school and upon successful completion of established criteria, may be considered for admittance to the three-year professional program.

Occupational Therapy Department web site (<http://www.drake.edu/ot/>)

- Occupational Therapy Doctorate (<https://catalog.drake.edu/archive/2024-2025/graduate/pharmacy-health-sciences/occupational-therapy/otd/>)